Product short description:

The Heatforce has been fitted with advanced safety measures, a Flame Failure Device & an ODS (Oxygen Depletion System) in case oxygen levels fall too low, it's also equipped with a built in Piezo ignition for easy lighting.

The fine ceramic plates turn to an intense red colour when glowing. Heat is generated by a gas burner oxygen mix inside the ceramic plates at a temperature of around 900°C. The benefit is that its heat is perceived stronger and more direct, particularly when you are positioned in front of the heater. Especially when feeling cold, you get a fast, heat response from infrared heaters. They're easily recognisable when switched on as the heat is visible thanks to the glowing ceramic panels.
